Second Edition Features 65 New & Returning Galleries
Fair Opens with a Preview Benefiting Brooklyn Museum

March 3 - 6, 2016
Pier 36 | New York City

Brooklyn, NY - February 1, 2016 - Art on Paper returns to New York City's Pier 36 this March 3 - 6, bringing the best in paper-based art, presented by 65 top galleries from around the world, to downtown Manhattan. The inaugural Art on Paper welcomed 20,000 visitors to the Lower East Side over the fair's four buzzing days. The fair was set apart by the quality of its exhibitions. The medium-driven focus lent itself to significant projects - unique moments that elevated Art on Paper, quickly shaping the fair into an important and influential New York City destination for modern and contemporary art.

ART ON PAPER EXHIBITORS

Art on Paper's 2016 Exhibitors will present an incredible selection of works on, about, by, and from paper. Purposeful exhibitions and highly curated projects will speak to the fair's focus, highlighting the special range and diversity inherent to the medium. 101/EXHIBIT, in collaboration with the Larry Rivers Foundation, will present 33 works on paper exemplifying Rivers' collaborative interests across poetry and art that helped define the practice of the New York School. Forum Gallery will present paper constructions by Cybèle Young, Walter Maciel Gallery will feature work by Brendan Lott, John Jurayj, and Lisa Solomon, and LOOC Gallery will show an immersive exhibition of work on paper by Tomas Vu. Joshua Liner Gallery will feature a solo exhibition of Libby Black's sculptures rendered in paper, hot glue, and acrylic paint. These handmade recreations of everyday objects fulfill a certain fantasy and create a sense of artist ownership over the special objects that define a space, a memory, or an aspiration. London's Manifold Editions will present Turner Prize Winner Grayson Perry's black and white series Six Snapshots of Julie, a series rarely available for public viewing. Gallery Joe's presentation will feature work by Christine Hiebert, and Castor Gallery will show an immersive environment of new work by Javier Calleja. Garvey|Simon will exhibit Stick Series, a series of colored pencil on paper by David Morrison. Nancy Hoffman Gallery will show work by Sarah Bridgland, Rupert Deese, Nathalia Edenmont, and Bill Richards. Tokyo's Gallery Jin will feature water-based woodcuts by Shoji Miyamoto and Hiroko Masuko ink on Torinoko-paper. Robert Mann Gallery will show archival pigment prints by Julie Blackmon and Cig Harvey, and G.W. Einstein Company will exhibit the 1950's Louise Nevelson etching, Archaic Figures Walking In The Sky (King and Queen). Visitors to Art on Paper will also be met with a powerful installation of Klein Sun Gallery artist Li Hongbo's paper sculptures. Recently exhibited at the SCAD Museum of Art as part of Irons for the Ages, Flowers for the Day, the work is composed of tools of war made from brightly colored honeycombed paper reshaped into delicate abstract forms.

PARTNERSHIPS

The fair's festive opening night Preview, benefiting Brooklyn Museum, will feature live music by local musicians and drinks by Bronx Brewery. Art on Paper will also feature an upstairs cafe with great food by Brooklyn's Fort Defiance and Big Mozz, coffee by Stand Coffee, pastries by Ovenly, and Ice Cream by Ice & Vice. The fair's drink program will be run by Fort Defiance's Sunken Harbour Club. Art on Paper will include developed relationships with important influencers and museums including The Lower Eastside Girls Club, APAA, Contemporary Art Museum Houston, El Museo del Barrio, Whitney Contemporaries, International Print Center, Norwood, International Center of Photography, Bass Museum of Art, Prospect New Orleans, and Seattle Art Museum. Working in concert with Creative Director Sasha Wolf, Beneficiary Partner Brooklyn Museum, New York City Hotel Partner The Roxy Hotel, and sponsor The Wall Street Journal, Art on Paper's second edition will feature special projects that push the boundaries of its celebrated medium.
